

Girlguiding Morocco Beach Clean

Duration: 7 days

The world's addiction to single-use plastic is a colossal issue destroying our oceans at an ever-increasing pace. According to current estimates, at least 8 million pieces of plastic are entering our oceans every single day. The waste in our oceans and washed up on shorelines comes from many sources; from litter mindlessly left on beaches, poorly managed landfill sites and bins, industry spills and the wrong items being flushed down the loo! Plastic is durable and takes a very long time to degrade. For marine plants and animals, it can have fatal consequences. By acting together now, we can protect the world's precious oceans from irreparable harm for future generations.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Day 1: Fly London to Marrakech; transfer to Essaouira

On arrival in to Marrakech, we transfer to our hostel in Essaouira, where we will have dinner and a trip briefing before a good night's rest! Night hostel.

Drive approx. 2.5 - 3 hours

Day 1 - 5: Beach Clean Project, Essaouira

Over the next few days, it is our mission to make a small but invaluable dent in tackling the plastic pollution issue on Morocco's shorelines. Just to the north and to the south of the popular tourist hot spot of Essaouira, on Morocco's Atlantic Coastline, we will find many beaches to scour and tidy-up the washed-up rubbish. Protecting the environment in this way is hugely rewarding. Night hostel.

Day 5: Afternoon return to Marrakech

After a final morning spent on our beach cleaning project, we make the return journey to Marrakech this afternoon. Night hotel.

Drive approx. 2.5 - 3 hours

---

Day 6: Free Day Marrakech

We enjoy some free time today to explore the amazing sights of the Jma El Fnaa, the main square, and shop for souvenirs in the bustling souks for which Marrakech is renowned. We meet again in the evening for a slap-up dinner to celebrate our beach-cleaning efforts. Night hotel.

Day 7: Fly Marrakech to London Transfer to the airport for our flight back to London. (Lunch not included)
