DETAILED ITINERARY

Day 1: Cuzco – Puno

(main group departs Cuzco)

An early start for the long drive across the Peruvian altiplano (high plains). We break the journey at different sites along the way, making for a fascinating drive. We stop to see the baroque church of Andahuaylillas, whose frescoes have earned it the nickname of 'Sistine Chapel of the Americas'. We then stop at the Incan sites of Raqchi and Pukara. Entry to these sites are optional. After stopping for lunch at the small town of Sicuani, we continue on to Puno, enjoying the views over the high plateau, with its backdrop of mountains, known as the altiplano. We arrive in Puno late afternoon, check in and relax. Puno lies at 3830m, which after your time in Cuzco should pose no problems, but take it easy if you are feeling the effects of altitude.

Breakfast and lunch provided. Provide own dinner. Hotel accommodation.

Please note that for participants joining this extension from the Andes to Amazon Cycle challenge, flights to Cuzco are not included.

Day 2: Lake Titicaca – Amantani Island

An early transfer takes us to the port and, travelling by motor boat, we set off for the legendary Uros Islands, where we have an insight into the lives of the Uros people who live on these floating reed islands, some only 20 metres in length. After a beautiful 3-hour boat ride we reach Amantani Island. Here you have the opportunity to trek to the top of the mountain (4150m) to see the Temples of the Pachamama and Pachatata. We spend the night in homes on the island, as guests of local families, and can enjoy authentic food and music tonight. This glimpse of the traditional customs of the island people is a real highlight for most people.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner provided. Rustic accommodation in family home.

Day 3: Lake Titicaca – Taquile Island – Puno

After breakfast we take a short boat ride to neighbouring Taquile Island, where we can tour around the ruins and see how the local people live. The people on Taquile are famous for their intricate and fascinating weavings, and you'll get the chance to haggle for souvenirs and support their way of life. After lunch we take the boat back to Puno. Arrival in the afternoon and transfer back to hotel.

Breakfast and lunch provided. Provide own dinner. Hotel accommodation.

Day 4: Puno – Chivay

Another early start for the drive to Chivay, the main town in the Colca Canyon. We stop en-route to enjoy some of the spectacular scenery and for a coca leaf tea. There are some great views of snow-capped mountains as we drive through green valleys, passing small villages. The canyon itself – more than twice as deep as the Grand Canyon – is spectacular, and we'll stop to enjoy the views. This Andean region was well-populated in pre-Incan times and has towns founded in Spanish colonial times. We arrive mid-afternoon in Chivay, and enjoy a lovely walk (approx 2 hours) through the beautiful scenery to the tiny colourful town of Coporaque, passing a pre-Inca cemetery at the base of the mountains. Returning to Chivay, there's a chance to try out the thermal baths. There's a chance to see traditional Andean dancers in the evening.

Breakfast provided. Provide own lunch and dinner. Hotel accommodation.

Day 5: Chivay – Cruz del Condor – Arequipa

The Colca Canyon is renowned for its condors, and we stop at the famous observation point Cruz del Condor, where you're likely to see these impressive birds, with colossal wing-spans exceeding 3m, passing very close as they fly past the canyon walls. The canyon views here are also very impressive. After plenty of time for photos, we drive on to Arequipa, stopping en-route at colonial towns with beautiful architecture. We arrive early evening.

Breakfast provided. Provide own lunch and dinner. Hotel accommodation.
