

LONDON MARATHON WALK

UK • TREK • TOUGH

ABOUT THE CHALLENGE

PULL ON YOUR DAISY ROOTS, AND JOIN US FOR OUR COCKNEY-THEMED LONDON MARATHON BALL OF CHALK!

2017 sees our cockney-themed 26.2 mile 'marathon' walk (half-marathon option also available) which takes in famous landmarks and lesser-known corners of the historic capital.

Our route takes us towards the church of St-Mary-le-Bow, centre of London's Cockney heritage, while having fun learning the old cockney rhyming slang (some of which you will have to figure out yourself as you go along!)

This is a tough challenge and you can expect tired pins and plates of meat, but there's plenty for you to have a butcher's at along the way! With plenty of sights for your mince pies, it'll be one of the most memorable things you do this year – you won't Adam & Eve it!

So bubble and squeak to your china plates or your trouble – and even if you start out on your Jack Jones you'll end up with plenty of new friends. Register online or just pick up the dog and bone

Registration for this challenge is now closed - Date and theme for 2018 will be confirmed shortly.

LONDON MARATHON WALK • 1 DAY

Day 1: The Event

We meet early for registration at our event hub in Chiswick, and have time for a good warm-up as well as a fortifying hot drink and a breakfast bap. We then set off! Our route takes us across the River Thames and follows its southern bank, looking across to Craven Cottage stadium as we walk on a mix of embankment paths and quiet residential streets. We cross the Thames again at Battersea and continue through Chelsea and Knightsbridge, passing Hyde Park Corner and continuing to Regent's Park, where we follow a wonderful section of Regent's Canal through Camden Lock. Looping south, we come to St Pancras and our half-way mark.

Now heading for the historic centre of London, we pass Smithfield Market and come to historic Cheapside, immortalised in literature from Shakespeare to Austen and Dickens. Here lies the church of St-Mary-le-Bow, centre-piece of Cockney heritage. According to tradition, a true Cockney is born within earshot of the church bells; these are the Bow Bells which legend says called back Dick Whittington to be mayor of London.

Central London's icons come thick and fast now; we spot landmarks from St Paul's Cathedral, Tower Bridge and the Shard, London Eye, Big Ben and Buckingham Palace as we criss-cross the Thames and walk through Whitehall to Westminster. Heading out of the city, we return to Fulham and walk alongside the Thames back to our event hub.

There's time afterwards to enjoy the atmosphere at the hub and say farewell to your fellow walkers before heading home.

Trek 26.2 miles

A half-marathon option (Grade Challenging) is also available. This starts at our halfway point at St Pancras and follows the second part of the route as described, crossing the finish line at our event hub in Chiswick.

Trek 13.1 miles
